Comments

“ I've spent some time reflecting on what has happened and have come to conclude that anyone with good conscience, I believe, will find this treatment of my grandpa, our family's patriarch, Ron Lynch, as unjust. He was a victim of elder abuse in his time of vulnerability and it is utterly heart wrenching. Not only was he a victim of abuse, the one/s who conspired against my grandfather and his family, also have abused his family in many ways, in particular my mother. We were kept in ignorance of his imminent death, not informed timely of his passing and excluded from his obituary. The ordeal has been shocking, confusing, and saddening. As a society, we should find a way to prevent this from happening to anyone in their time of vulnerability.

May God bring light to this darkness and order to this confusion.

May God rest my grandpa's soul and may he be remembered in a good way.

May God bring punishment to those who abused him and conspired against his family in ill will, in this life and the next; that, or immense mercy; or both.

“ I met Ron, Mr. Lynch, a few times and I found him to be brilliant and caring. I also agree with the other comments that it's pitiful and sad to have excluded his daughter, Cindy, his 3 grandchildren, and his 4 great-grandchildren. I don't think he would have approved

“ My father-in-law, Ron, was an amazingly intelligent, humorous, and overall kind-hearted man. I loved him very much and will miss him always. I will always remember marveling at his latest garden or hobby creations, and the way he would furrow his brow while thinking of his next move at backgammon with Cindy. Many happy family memories will always be present of our visits with him. He is truly one-of-a-kind. Thank you, Ron.

“ Dear Cindy, Seth, Laura Beth and Zachary,
I am genuinely shocked that there is no mention of you in your grandfather's obituary. I know how much GPL meant to each of you and how much he loved each of you and your children, his grandchildren.
It will all come to light. You can only bury lies and deceit for so long. The truth will be revealed and brought to light.
Sending my love and condolences my dear precious family. Always , angie

“ To the family... My wonderful Aunt Cindy, and cousins Seth, Zachary, and Laura Beth... and all your precious kiddos,
I am so sorry for your loss. I am sorry that selfish and abusive people have stolen this time of celebration and mourning together as a family. I pray you cherish the good memories and allow forgiveness and healing to settle in your spirits. I truly am heartbroken for you all.... especially my Aunt who had months of life stolen from her with her Dad... not fair... not okay. I love you Aunt Cindy. Choose to continue living as your healthy father would have wanted.... without resentment and in peace. Much love and many prayers, Hannah Nguyen

“ This spot is for family condolences. Cindy, I am sorry for the loss of your father and grieve with you over the pain you have had to endure the last few months due to such extreme elder abuse. Seth, Laura Beth and Zak - I do hope you can treasure memories of visits to his home and time you had with him. He was interesting and accomplished. Cindy - you two shared a love of poodles and riding around his property. I have seen fun pictures! And we have talked about long visits you had there. We have had a lot of years and memories! I love my niece and nephews! Janice - prayers for you too in losing the father of the children you shared. I love all of you.

“ I knew Mr. Lynch and his wife Janet. His daughter Cindy was married to my Brother Parker. They had three children: Seth Gragg and his wife Margaret have two children, Levi and Gemma. Laura Beth and Gary Adams have two children Sam and Madalyn. Zachary Gragg and his new wife Adrianna. Adrianna did not get to meet Mr. Lynch. I don't understand how an obituary can be written and purposely omit the biggest part of Mr. Lynch's life. My last memory of him was a lovely day at his granddaughter's wedding. When Mr. Lynch developed dementia his caregiver exploited him and his wife financially and cut him off from his only daughter and grandchildren. Mr. Lynch was an accomplished man - he cared for his wife Janet for most of their life. Mr. Lynch's daughter Cindy trusted the caregiver that estranged him from his family only to benefit financially. This loss is sad. The saddest part is that his true family has been omitted and dismissed. His daughter and grandchildren have suffered great loss and now cannot mourn the loss of their grandfather without the struggle and confusion created by his 'caregiver' Gayle Usry. John 8:32 Then you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free.

“ Ron has many surviving family members. None of who are mentioned, were informed of his passing, or included in funeral arrangements. I'm thankful my children, two of his great grandkids, have happy memories of him. He has a daughter, grand daughter, two grandsons and four great grandchildren. Grandpa Lynch was a great story teller, incredibly smart and loved a good game of backgammon. RIP GPL

“ GPL & GML were supportive of my wife and I's marriage... and had intended to be in-person. But were unable due to health reasons.

“ GPL was an accomplished businessman. Early in my career in sales, he would give me advice and tell me stories about his career. For example, he taught me it's true that "it's not what you say... it's how you say it"... He also told me how he was so loyal to Mr. DeLorean at DMC that he was the last man on payroll. That inspired me to be hardworking and produce quality results... Just 3 years ago, I was preparing for an event at a grand opening for a BMW... I went to the event with my step-dad... GPL helped me prepare and shared some photos of a car he restored, so that I could have something relevant to share. It was a very good memory... and I almost forgot he helped shape into something possible. A true engineer, working in the background to ensure things ran smoothly... Sad that his end of life is a case of elder abuse.

“ I am sad about the loss of your dad Cindy. The loss to your children too. You were a wonderful daughter, so giving. You and yours should have been listed in the obituary.

“ While I never had the pleasure of meeting Cindy's father Ron, I'm appalled the lasting memories of Ron's life fail to mention his children and grandchildren. May he rest in peace.

“ GPL's father, Franklin, was a photographer. My mother, Cindy, loved photography. And, me, his grandson, also got the photography bug. GPL was one of my original sponsors and gave me a high quality printer that I used to grow my photography business. Some of my best prints were from that Epson, GPL. RIP with good memories.

here & won propane for my brother. The guy in Camden still trying to create havoc! But things are good here. Dr was impressed with Jan, it all went well. He is going to see her every 6 mths. I have Ron set up to see the psychiatrist in April. Jan is getting up earlier now, & doing much better. Cheri is also coming to clean on Wednesday's as well now.

“ My last good memories with my father was January 2020. He had been diagnosed with Dementia / Alzheimer's in November 2019. But really, I lost my dad in May 2020.

Zachary Gragg - October 30, 2020 at 06:59 PM

“ No mention of Ron’s daughter Cindy, his 3 grandchildren, including myself or his 4 great-grandchildren.

He recently made his will out to his Alzheimer’s care taker; Gayle Usry & now Rev David Usry is officiating the service. None of his living family is mentioned in the obituary. The entire situation is extremely bizarre.

Rest In Peace Grandpa.

“ Looks like somebody deleted my post. But I also was mentioning that Ron Lynch had three grandchildren and for four Great grandchildren who referred to him as GPL.

“ Ron was my grandfather, who, though distant I loved and learned from. He has many surviving blood relatives that are not mentioned. Zero are mentioned actually. His “special friend” seems to have conveniently excluded his actual family from this obituary as well as other matters.

MaybGod rest his soul. Ron was a victim of elder abuse.

Zachary Gragg - October 30, 2020 at 06:27 PM

“ Ron refused to see his son Brian the last year of his life even though he knew he was dying. He has a daughter Cindy who he now refuses to see.
