“ Carol was one of the most loving people I have ever met. Her love for her Lord was undeniable, and she radiated that love to everyone she met. It was such a blessing to be with her this past Christmas. There is no doubt that she is praising God with the angels in Heaven and watching over everyone that she loved here until they are reunited again. God blessed me with her love and friendship, and especially her prayers. Her faith and love will live on in the hearts of everyone she touched.

Carol was a beautiful woman inside and out. I will miss her a lot. She and I promised each other we would look one another up in Heaven when Jesus comes in the clouds of Heaven and calls her from her sleeping grave. She won't sleep long because Jesus is coming and soon.

“ Carol was truly a living and positive light. She always had encouraging, positive words to say when I saw her. She and Momma Day were my favorites to see each Sabbath. She was a worker for the Lord and what a Christian woman should be. I looked up to her in many ways. My deepest and heartfelt condolences to the Harrison and Day families. I know how much she'll be missed. The greatest comfort is knowing we'll see her again in God's kingdom.

*Carol hired me at NCMC as a nurse in 1991. She set me on my journey that continues there today. Carol was kind always wanting to do the right thing for people. Carol became aware I had written a book called Eves Choice. She greatly appreciated the book sharing it with many. She expressed it gave her courage which instilled courage in me. People of like acquaintance would stop me to tell me of my book she had shared and the hope she shared because of it. Above all Carol shared her hope in Christ. Today this we know...Carol is sleeping in Jesus. But, yet for a little while because when the trumpet plays Carol will rise in Jesus. She shared that hope to others because that was who Carol was. A kind lady sharing the hope of Jesus.*

“ We love her more than words can say and always will. The memories are precious and fill my heart. Such a Lady a treasure on earth for us all. I don't remember being in their wedding, that was a few Years ago. I do remember going to the place in Clarksville by the lake, we all had a great time, I remember the cabbage and corned beef she made while we were there. So many memories I will forever hold in my heart near and dear to me. Until we meet again ❤️👍💙🌹

“ What an honor to be loved as family by Carol. She gave me a job at North crest when I desperately needed, met me in her office with the words, " baby,how can I help you?". She loved everyone she touched,never knew a stranger, loved the Lord beyond measure. Carol fought a good fight,therefore is laid up for her a crow of glory which the righteous judge shall give her on that day. May we all be there. Lovingly Sonja
