Tribute Wall

“ The last time I had talked to you, we were not on good terms then the next thing I knew, my phone was blowing up with people telling me several different stories of what happened to you. I should have went to your service but I could not bring myself to do it. We went through hell together and did some unspeakable things to each other but i always tell myself that I am glad I went through it all with you. I know you are shining down and smiling at everything that I have accomplished. love you always.
