“ Mrs. Boyd & family, I am so sorry for your loss and I'm sorry I was unable to tell you this personally. Mr. Doug was the highlight of my time working at the Register's Office; I always looked forward to his visits and the challenges they could entail as well as learning the history of the various properties he was getting ready to survey. He was truly a wonderful man and will be sorely missed. My deepest sympathies to your family.

“Frances, I'm sure you know how much Kevin and I loved you and Doug. After taking over the veggie and flower sells, I admired you both so much more. It is not the easy task that Doug always seemed to make it. Between the trips to Ky and all the loading and unloading... I really don't know how y'all did it. We truly loved and appreciated when we came back with our truck and trailer full and Doug showed up in the golf cart and his eyes sparkled at all we had bought. Or the times he walked over to peek in the trailer and and sit to share so many wonderful memories and stories with us. We feel so truly blessed to be neighbors and love you all as if you were our family.

We enjoyed the times of fireworks with the kids our just chatting with you guys. Please know that we are here for you and love you all very much.

“ Mrs. Boyd,

I am so very sorry that I was not able to be there in person today to pay my respects to that wonderful man and extend my condolences to you and your family. It would be very difficult to overstate the importance that Doug Boyd had in my life as well as my family's. From the time we “got off the boat” in our move from Pennsylvania your husband showered us with authentic unmerited grace. So much so, that when I get to Glory and we meet up again I will not be the least bit surprised to find out he was an angel tasked with making the Brown family's move to the South far less traumatic than it could have been. I recall that even after meeting him just one time thinking, “Maybe there is something to this Southern hospitality thing.” After Mr Boyd found out I was an avid bowhunter and had nowhere to hunt he invited me immediately, on the very next Saturday to criss-cross the county so he could introduce me to all his land-owning friends. Each and every one of those folks gave the new-kid-in-town hunting privileges on their farms. That was such a generous thing to do. What a warm welcome into the community where we were to spend the next nearly 27 years. As if that wasn't enough, it was Doug Boyd who came to me and said I need to take a look at the “old Barnes' place as it was up for sale. He then walked us on a tour of every inch of that property at a blistering pace that neither I nor my wife could keep up with. Like so many properties in the county he had surveyed it and knew every hill and holler like the back of his hand. We bought that 55 acres just a little bit after he took us on the first tour and have been enjoying it ever since. Then lastly I'll mention the steady stream of Cheatham County's finest home-grown vegetables delivered personally to our front door. He taught an entire family of Yankees to love grilled okra right along with all the other delicious produce so many of us Cheathamites have enjoyed over the last two decades. He was so gratified in knowing how much joy the fruits... and vegetables of his labor brought to this community. He was truly a man with a servant's heart. It is hard for me to accept the fact that I will never see his name on my appointment schedule again. I will look forward to when we will feast in the House of Zion where I am sure his okra will be front and center.

Grace and Peace my dear friend, and to you Mrs. Boyd a heart-felt thanks as he would have never made it to 84 without your care and steadfast commitment to his well-being.

“ I met Doug in 2012 when my wife and I purchased our retirement land from Al & Rosemary Klein and he surveyed it and we became friends. He taught me how to hunt Ginseng and offered gardening insights. I especially enjoyed going over to "Amish Country" to the vegetable auction. We also shared the same Primary Care Doctor, Scott Brown. He'll truly be missed until we meet again on the other side of the "Veil". Rest in peace, my friend, and may God give you comfort, Frances Ann.
