“ I had the pleasure of knowing this lady for a short time. I could have sat and listened to her stories for hours. Not only stories, but she was wise. What a wonderful family she has that took such great care of her. She will be missed.

“ My dear sweet Big Sister Suzanne. Words can't describe the void you've left behind (this sucks). While I'm sad, sad, sad of your passing I'm also overjoyed you made your final journey to the Master and I'm pleased you are in no more pain. It still doesn't ease the pain of your absence. You are (were) a Godly woman who touched everyone you met and who knows how many will be in the Lord presence because of your witness. My heart goes out to my neice and nephews who will miss their mom I am more in mourning for your husband of more than 40 yrs to loose his love (except for the Lord) and is now walks without his help mate. The word tells us you are in the company of the Lord Jesus who is the Christ and nothing is better than that. We are left behind to sorrow for awhile but in a blink of an eye will be together again. All my love, your brother Neil “ Sue was someone I always admired. In the 60's she was the cool hippy who I wanted to be like. As she got older she became the woman of God who example love and compassion and grace like I had never seen. I still want to be like her. Miss you terribly dear sister but I have no doubt we'll see each other again.
