“ I just found out about Jess this morning and I'm completely heartbroken. Jess and Wade have bought books from me for years and in the process, become good friends of mine. I never saw Jess without a smile on his face and a sparkle in his eye. His joy was contagious and he was a bright spot on our campus any time he visited. His spirited voice always announced him and I've heard it again and again in my head today. His passing will create a stark void for all who knew and loved him.

My sincere condolences to his family and children. I know there was never a time that I spoke to him that he didn't take out his camera and show me pictures of his family-- he truly loved you all very much. I know Wade's travels will be difficult in the days ahead and my prayers are with him as well.

Rest in Peace, Jess. I know heaven is a livelier place with you in it.

Prayers and God's peace to all of you- Jess will be certainly be missed in this life.

Sincerely,

“ Jess taught me how to catch fish off Gulf Shores beach at night. He loved it down there and he made me love it too. We took a boat ride one day and almost didn't make it back. We got stuck in a storm right in the opening of Panama City Bay and limped home on one engine. Thanks for the memories bud. Rest in peace.

“ I grew up with Jess. He was literally the boy next door. We went to school and played together as kids. I will never forget when he showed me how to skateboard off the brick wall onto the paved driveway at my moms....I still have a faint scar on my knee from that event! Those days we didn't wear helmets or pads we were tough we could take it. May you rest in peace Jess.

I am sorry to hear about the passing of Jess. As a kid he was something else. He and Larry rode the school bus with me. I know the world has lost a good man. May he rip.
