“ Unfortunately, I wasn't privileged to get to know John well. Our interactions were generally limited to him greeting me in the morning as I finished my shift and headed to my truck and as he was walking in to start his day. The quality of man he was being evident even in those short, but frequent interactions. How much he cared for his fellow man and the compassion he had was very apparent in the way he conducted himself. My sincerest condolences to his loved ones.

“ I will always remember that precious, blond, curly-headed little boy in my first grade class. He worked very hard and was very conscientious. He was always polite and got along with everyone. From things I have read about him, he continued to be an outstanding young man. What a sad day for his family and friends. I know he will be missed. My thoughts and prayers of comfort go out to his family and friends.

“ Working with John was a blessing in disguise. He was ethical, loving and stern all at the same time. My favorite quote of his was “Life on Life’s Terms” His spiritual connection was evident in everything he did. He was dedicated to the love of his life and always called her “my bride.” We will miss you my friend 💜💜 Donna & Joe Pritchard

“ John was my fraternity brother at UTM. I have many fond memories of him but the one that i recall most vividly is when he broke my axe handle splitting wood outside the fraternity house circa 1990. Ouzts was so strong and must not have been experienced with chopping because he splintered the handle with a single mighty blow to the log. He felt terrible and apologized but it was a Craftsman tool so i said no worry, sears will give me a whole new axe. Nevertheless a day or so later John presented me with a brand new hickory axe handle he had gone and purchased at the local hardware store. What a fine soul he was and with a heart of gold. He was a true gentleman thru and thru.

“ A very good friend who lived down the street from me. We grew up together, and we were very close. I hate to hear this terrible news. He was a good man, good friend and a very positive influence on anyone who encountered him. God speed good buddy.
