“ We are so sorry to hear about Barry's passing. We will greatly miss the moments of cordial conversation and funny stories. We became acquainted with Barry later in life and it was worth every moment. He always offered a pleasant smile and loved to light-heartedly tease. We know that it is a great loss for Debbie. She is not alone. You left too soon for us my friend.

“ I’ll never forget the day I met Barry. I was just 15 years old and dating David, who, is my husband. Little did I know he would be the Pawpaw to our children and grandchildren. We lived just three houses up and were blessed with the privilege of raising our babies with him so close in all our lives. He was our rock, gave sound advice and taught me how to have the guts and grit to manage business and speak with confidence when it was time to do so. I often think to myself “What would Pawpaw do” and I did and will do just that and with courage to boot! He did a fine job raising my husband, teaching, disciplining and investing in him and David is a good man, he’s “done you proud” as you would say. All the time he put into us was so precious, thank you Jesus for Pawpaw”. I just love you so much
