“ I was Faye's sister-in-law (Jerry's wife) -- and I can say the first time I met Faye, I was so impressed with how easy she was to talk to, funny and very likeable. I've enjoyed knowing her over the years -- even though we lived across the country from each other, and only wish we had been closer. Jerry always spoke of good times with her and Norman and the rest of the family and I know they are catching up in heaven on all the memories (as the Draughons always do when they get together). God bless Faye and her family in the days ahead, and God bless all the sweet memories of what she meant to each person in her own special way.

“ I'm not sure. It I believe Faye and I lived beside each other, gosh some 17-18 years ago. My daughter was about 3-4 years old and we lived in the apts over by where White House Police station is now. She was the sweetest woman. Always buying Paige toys and candy. We sat outside many evenings when weather permitted talking and enjoying each other's company. Sad to hear she passed away. R.I.P
