“ We offer our condolences to you on Mark's passing. It is never easy to give up a loved one, but we rejoice in that he lived for the day he could be gathered with the faithful around the throne.
Know you will miss his cheerful countenance and we offer our sympathy in hopes that it will make his passing easier to bear.
We do not wish those back who finished faithfully and pray that we

So glad our paths crossed because of Phil's little meeting shoes..he couldn't go play outside and get them dirty..Mark and Jan were both teachers and had Phil and Charlotte in school...that caused Mark and Jan to come to the house then with lots of questions ..meeting with Jean B. and Christine, the 1st workers; taking them to gospel meeting..and their 1st convention in Iowa..a notebook wouldn't hold all our Sunday and Wednesday meetings with them..and all the stories following..thanks for the "special bond" that resulted all those years...and watching the children grow up close by...Love you all...Margaret Leffel and Bill (deceased)

We are so sorry to hear of Mark's passing. We too remember your family from the days Margaret speaks of though not so closely connected. Then after we left Indiana we loved thinking of your family living in the area where we had lived. Ryan told us once he used to visit his friend in our old home. Our care and sympathy to all.

I don't have to tell you all that you are a very special family - to me and to so many others. Reading through these condolences and seeing all the photos, there is no doubt that Mark was a loving, caring, unique man who upheld some very high standards. That is evident in your whole family, because of his influence. My heart goes out to you all. You really have been in my thoughts these days, hoping for your comfort. Finishing faithfully is no small thing; only with the help of God and his grace can it be accomplished. So glad that you have that comfort. Know that we are with you in spirit and love. Hug the girls for me, please.
