“ I am a man of few words, but if you bring up the name, Nathan White , I can talk all day long. He was not only my cousin he was my brother. It was a hot summer day we were sent on a honey run.. Maw told Nathan to take her car and go to grannies and get some honey. White four-door Chevy.. we went to grannies, picked up the honey with a paper towel over the top of the mason jar. I sat it between my legs and we headed home.. we decided to make a detour behind the mapco and cut donuts in the field ,tries ripping and spinning I realize the paper towel came off the honey jar. It was full of wheat and grass. It took a few minutes to get it out and clean the car. We laughed all the way home. We had a little less honey than what we started out with it was truly finger licking good, I think KFC stole that from Winnie the Pooh lol. And every time I see a honey jar or eat it, I think of that time .I know a lot of people love him. He is a very kind person. And is very strong when pushed to his limit I have a lot of stories, one with the chicken liver another with a police officer ripping off Nathan 's shirt pocket and some not so funny like when paw had to come and get us from White House, City Hall, or the time he came and picked us up from the emergency room. he didn't have to whip you on the backside he could whip you with his eyes.. Maw and Roger got us for the bottle rockets. Nathan taught me three things to have fun and laugh and how to put chicken liver on my hook.. I would say four, but not much of a singer.A country boy can survive we say grace we say, ma'am, if you, ain't into that then we don't give a damn. I did buy a 45.. I will always have him with me. My sympathies go out to the family my friend, my cousin, my brother. I know. When I leave this world and God calls me home, he will be waiting at the gate with a smile on his face, and a jar of sweet wheat honey JKB. PS Paw If you're reading this don't be too hard on us. We won't do it again.
