

Patricia Karen Bunch Price

June 22, 1939 - January 30, 2023

Pat Bunch Price, age 83 of Cross Plains passed away Monday, January 30, 2023 at her home. She was born June 22, 1939 in Zanesville, Ohio to Charles & Gladys Rush Hendershot. Pat was a gifted songwriter, who has written many songs over the past 50+ years. She had been employed by Warner Brothers, Sony and ASCP to just name a few. She penned the words to "I'll Still Be Loving You", a Number 1 selling hit for Restless Heart, "I Want My Goodbye Back" recorded by Ty Herndon and "Wild One" sung by Faith Hill. She also loved collecting antique dolls. She is preceded in death by her parents; 2 brothers, Dane and Lance Daugherty She is survived by her loving husband of 45 years, James Price, Cross Plains, TN; sons, Randy (Cathy) Archer, Scottsdale, AZ, Robin Archer, White House, TN and Rusty (Christine) Archer, Pueblo, CO; sister, Sally (Al) Litwalk, Minneapolis, MN; brothers, Jeff & Von Wagner, both of Phoenix, AZ;; 9 grandchildren. There are no services or visitation planned. ARRANGEMENTS ENTRUSTED TO AUSTIN & BELL 533 Highway 76 White House, TN 37188 (615)672-5000 www.austinandbell.com

Tribute Wall

“ I don't know who will see this but I was greatly saddened to learn of Pat's passing. She mentored me during my time at Warner Chappell in Nashville and helped me learn how to be a better lyricist especially. We wrote some beautiful songs together. I got a chance to meet her husband "Earl." She advised me so much in my formative years as an artist and I will be eternally grateful. I remember her telling me how much she loved words and that lyrics were everything to her in a well written song. I have taken that to heart in every song I ever wrote since meeting Pat. Rest in Power Pat - you changed my world and I am sure countless others. - Lara Lavi, Lara@dreamingincolorent.com

Lara Lavi - April 16, 2023 at 09:35 PM