“ I'll never forget the first thing Peggy Rowland ever said to me. She said "Sandy, we have to do something about these porch monkeys" and then she laughed out loud at my look of shock. I really don't understand these people that say nice things about such a racist old bat.

“ My most precious memory with this fine lady was her taking the the time and teaching me things that I always wanted to try. To this day I still make candies, cakes , bread, and makes dishes that she taught me. It was so much fun learning and being around her. She enjoyed taking my kids and baking with each of them for the fair for 4-H. Memories I'll have forever. Thank you Ms Peggy for being there. We will miss you, but you were dearly loved by us.
