“ A person can walk through a lifetime and never have the blessing of knowing another human being of Bob Moore's caliber. Thank God that I was given the opportunity...when you move into a neighborhood you never know what kind of neighbors you'll have; my new next door neighbor was Bob when we moved in 5 yrs ago. Bob was over quickly to introduce himself and welcome us...when we realized each other was Hoosiers, it was a fast friendship!! Then he ask if we played Rook (Bob loved the game), and I'd played since boyhood...we were soon peas in a pod...I want to say that the wisdom that man possessed was phenomenal; he taught me so much about life and living it...about loving my family and fellow man...and about hurting, recovering and forgiving...I will always believe God led me to Bob when I needed him most. He was more a father to me in a few years than I'd known in a lifetime...he called me his second son; he changed my life for the better...I simply loved him, and my world will never be the same without him...but I know that he fills a place now on the right hand of God; and Heaven is the brighter for it... basque in the glory old friend... “ He was the oldest of eight children and always thought he had to look after his brothers and sisters, I even got a spanking one time, because he went against my father telling me I could not go some place and Bob thought I should be able to, so he took me, when Dad found out I had went against his wishes he gave me a whipping and told me I needed to learn to listen to what he told me instead of what Bob told me, that was not the only time he had done that for me just the only time I got caught.
