“ Scott was well liked by many at work. He was a worker. A humble man who love his family and the creator of man. Scott always had a smile and never had a bad thing to say about anyone. One thing I will never forget about Scott was his yearning for the truth in the bible. He loved talking about the savior. I can truly say he loved the Most High our creator. He demonstrated his love for our savior by letting his light shine as it did.

May peace be with the family. Scott loved you so much. May God comfort you during this time in your life.
